GIFTS TO THE INDIANA.

Silver Service and Library for the New Ship—Gen. Harrison Speaks.

New York, Sept. 21.—Gov. Claude Matthews and about seventy-five prominent citizens of Indiana went on board the United States battleship lying off Tompkinsville, L. I., today. They were welcomed by Capt. Robert Evans, the ship's commander, and a salute of thirteen guns was fired in their honor. The purpose of the visit of this delegation of Westerners to the finest of the Nation's ships of war, was to present to its officers the silver service and library that the citizens of Indiana have provided for the craft named in honor of the State they represent.

Ex-President and Mrs. Harrison accompanied the Indiana party on board the battleship. Gov. Matthews made the presentation speech; to which, on behalf of Capt. Evans and the officers and men of the Indiana Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo responded. When the secretary had finished there were shouts for Gen. Harrison. Reluctantly the ex-President walked into the center of the crowd and delivered a very entertaining and humorous speech. He said in part:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: I am more than delighted to be here today on board the Indiana, which is without doubt the greatest ship in our fleet, or in the fleet of any other nation. I am glad also to be here this afternoon because of the fact that I am a sort of a grandfather to the Indiana, and I confess this the more readily because she is such a very great and at the same time a very young ship. When I was in a position to have some influence with the secretary of the navy I told him I would live to have the best ship of the navy named after Indiana, and I see that my wishes have been very kindly fulfilled.

"Today America stands abreast of all other nations in gun manufacture and ship

England's bulwarks old walls of oak, but today she must necessarily have a navy three times stronger than other power in the world. We do not need such an enormous navy, but still we must take care of our people. We have them scattered here and there throughout the world and a million men could not take care of them, but with ships such as this one we can easily declare our power and commanders in foreign navies will have to clear their decks to preserve their interest."

Turning to Capt. Evans Gen. Harrison pointing with left hand towards the silver service said:

"With Gov. Matthews of Indiana in favor of the white metal and our distinguished editor, Mr. Williams, in favor of the gold standard I am glad to say that here is a mixture which will never reach the mints. This, Capt. Evans; is free and, in all that means. Indiana is surely a free silver State."

A hearty laugh and hand-clapping followed the last remarks of the ex-President.

The Goodrich Real Estate AND Southwest Texas Immigration Bureau, JESSE O. WHEELER, Secretary. Brownsville, Cameron Co., Texas.

Cameron County is the extreme southern county of Texas. It is separated from Mexico by the Rio Grande on the south and has about 100 miles of gulf coast as its eastern boundary. It was organized in 1848, and contains 3308 square miles. Farming and stock raising are the principal industries of the people the location, climate and soil being admirably adapted for both. The greater portion of the soil is a rich loam, and produces an exceedingly heavy yield of both cotton and corn the chief farm products. Two, and sometimes three crops of corn, averaging from fifty to seventy bushels per acre, are raised yearly, while cotton will easily yield from one to two bales per acre. Grasses grow all the year, and stock find pasturage without being fed or sheltered during the winter. But the soil and climate of the Lower Rio Grande Valley are by nature best adapted for the production of vegetables and fruits. Vegetables of all kinds grow all the year around, and northern people are astonished to find tomatoes, lettuce, spinach, English peas, etc., served fresh from the gardens in midwinter. This is undoubtedly the paradise of truck gardeners, and so soon as rail transportation is obtained Cameron county vegetables by the car load will be shipped to northern markets during winter and early spring, and will obtain the highest prices, as there will be no competition. This is due to our exceedingly mild climate. Frequently the entire winter passes without a single frost, and there is rarely ever any cold weather before Christmas. Fruit culture has not been attempted in this county on a large scale, but there is one large banana plantation on which this delicious fruit yields most abundantly and in the greatest perfection. Grapes are also raised extensively, growing in almost every yard. They ripen from two to four weeks earlier than in any other section. Many planters here make all of their own table wines. Oranges and lemons also grow in profusion, and this section could easily be made to rival Florida in the production of oranges. Sugar cane is also one of the most important products of this valley. The Rio Grande plantation of Mr. Geo. Brulay and the Rabb Starck plantation produce great quantities of cane, which is all manufactured on the Rio Grande plantation. This cane makes sugar which is produced by experts to be even superior to the best Louisiana product. Havana tobacco has also proven a success here, Col. J. G. Tucker having made some most successful experiments with it; his samples were classed by New York buyers as equal to the best Havana.

The county is watered by the Rio Grande with its ample flow along the southern boundary, and numerous small streams called "arroyos," and "resacas."

The population of Cameron county according to the census of 1890 is 13,424. Brownsville, the county seat, has a population of about 7000. Point Isabel, the seaport of the county, has about 400 inhabitants and Santa Maria, a growing little river settlement, has about 250.

Improved lands sell for from $5 to $25 per acre, unimproved for from $2 to $6 per acre. The average taxable value of land is $1. There are 82,240 acres of school land in the county. The county has a total school population of 4400, and gives employment to 80 teachers. The average length of the school term is five months. The total tuition revenue received from the State is $13,000. There are a number of public schools in the county, affording ample educational advantages.

Homeseekers are gradually beginning to find their way to this land where farmers can work in the open air 365 days in the year, but it is comparatively undeveloped as yet. With the building of the railroad to Corpus Christi, however, a great influx of settlers may be expected and they will be heartily welcomed. This valley is capable of supporting millions of people. THE HERALD will be pleased to furnish any further information regarding the Lower Rio Grande Valley that readers abroad may desire.
